

THE PAIN

The stars shine on the other side of the curtains in my house
While I'm sitting here overwhelmed by the pain
I've created an ocean from the waterfalls in my eyes
While the city's asleep and deaf to my scream

We started out with anxiety
About hurting each other, each a different mess
You were scared of Your past, I was scared of the future
Of all the pain I feared I could cause You

[Chorus]

The pain inside, the pain we find
In our own guilt not left behind
The pain denied, the pain we fear
The blood is spilt
The pain is here

I knew Your pain, but I still poured my own
Into Your overflowing glass
I shouldn't have, I'm sorry, I'm sorry
Please forgive me
The pain overshared is two of itself

[Chorus] (2x)
